	Göttert Extrusiometer X-Trude The new Göttert Extrusiometer series X-Trude are compact laboratory extruders for testing and production-simulation of polymers with a torque of 300Nm, 600Nm or 1400Nm. The application spectrum ranges from a simple melt dispenser for online rheometer, melt index, MVR, viscosity or for follow-up units (like film analysis ALS) to fully automatic rheological measurements with continuous material feed (online sampler).
	Shimadzu - be an expert with HMV-G In recent years, the demands on micro-testers have risen steadily. Reliable measurements are essential to ensure high quality of products. This requires testing instruments that are easy to use, but also minimises the human influence on the total error. The Vickers micro-tester HMV-G 21 series from Shimadzu are equipped with a camera system for automatic measurements, diagonal measurement (HMV-G21) - in response to this request - standardized. Easy to use software (G21 series)    Starting with the entry of the test conditions, up to the presentation of the results, all that is carried out through a convenient user interface. This allows the safe execution of experiments. Moreover, the results can be evaluated in chronological order using the graphical routine control function (necessary for certification acc. ISO17025 and ISO16949).
